

Student Project Consent Form

Course Title: Programming for Cognitive Psychologists

Project Title: Understanding Effect of Timer on stroop task

Purpose of the Project

This project is part of a course assignment. Its aim is to help students learn how to collect, analyze, and interpret data ethically. The project findings are for educational purposes only and will not be used for commercial gain.

Participation

Your participation in this project is voluntary. You may:

- Choose not to participate at any time.
- Withdraw without any penalty or loss of benefits.
- Refuse to answer any question that makes you uncomfortable.

Procedures

If you agree to take part:

- You will be asked to participate in a short activity. A stroop task made on Pshchopy
- The session will take approximately 5-6 minutes.
- Data collected may include responses, behavioral observations, or demographic information (no identifying details will be recorded unless necessary).

Confidentiality

Your responses will be kept confidential and stored securely. Data will be used only for teaching and learning purposes within this course. No names or personal identifiers will appear in any reports or presentations.

Risks and Benefits

There are no known risks beyond those of everyday activities. You may gain insight into how psychological or behavioral data are collected and analyzed.

Contact Information

If you have any questions about this project or your rights as a participant, you may contact:

Course Instructor: R Vignayanandam Muddapu Email: vignayanandam.muddapu@apu.edu.in

Consent Statement

Please tick the boxes below: (✓)

I have read and understood the information above.	☒
I have read and understood the information above.	☒
I understand that I can withdraw at any time without penalty.	☒

Student Project Consent Form

Participant's Name: Anusha Hazra

Signature: Anusha Hazra

Date: 10/11/25

Student Researcher(s): Anup Mishra & Dwarak Krishna Vinod Kumar

Signature: Anup

Date: 10-11-2025